About the Workshop:

Storytelling is one of the oldest form of communication and teaching. It brought together the early human civilizations, giving the answers to the fundamental questions of life, creation and the afterlife, generation after generation.

Every human culture in the world literate or not, believes in the art of telling stories.

The human brain is hard-wired to think and express in terms of a beginning, middle and end. Leveraging this aspect of the human functioning, paves a path for integrating stories in the classroom.

- Storytelling brings multiple benefits in the field of education.
- Stories make content more exciting and learnable
- Enables building a sense of community inside the classroom
- Raises the enthusiasm and motivation for children irrespective of age
- Improves listening skills.

This storytelling workshop is an introduction to the art of storytelling and it's application in the modern classroom. The workshop is designed to be highly experiential, demo-driven and activity-based.
